RED ARMY SMASHES ON TOWARD ROSTOV

Americans Participate In Commando Raids On Tunisia

Germans Rushing Reserves To The Middle Don Front

Moscow, Dec. 22.—(P)—German resistance, marked by increasing counter-attacks, stiffened against the Red army today in the middle Don drive, but the Russians reported they had captured a large town as the Red army smashed on southwestward toward Rostov, Black Sea port.

(The mid-day communique did not name the town taken, but the next "large populated place" in the path of the Russians was Millerovo, important railroad junction 120-odd miles from Rostov.)

The Germans were rushing reserves to the middle Don front in an attempt to halt the swift pace of Col. Gen. N. F. Vatutin's legions, which had stormed to within 20 miles of Millerovo yesterday.

The front southwest of Stalingrad also was boiling anew in fierce struggle as the German armies, bolstering reserves with large tank units, brought heavier pressure against the Russian thrust down along the Kalmyck Steppe.

The increasing tempo of German resistance was foreseen here once the Axis troops found a place that they were allowed to stand and fight.

The communique acknowledged stiff defense at what it called the "large populated place" on the middle Don front.

The communique said that Russian engineers removed more than 2,000 German mines before the main force struck at the unnamed town.

"In the fighting for this populated place about 400 Hitlerites were killed and 98 taken prisoner," the war bulletin said. It listed more than 100 trucks, as well as guns, ammunition and food, captured by the column striking down the railroad, far within the loop of the Don, with Rostov, on the Black Sea, as its ultimate goal.

Picturing disorganization that has attended the withdrawal of Axis armies before the gigantic new Russian offensive, the communique reported that in another sector of that front, Red army artillery gunners "dispersed and partly wiped out an enemy infantry unit which had retreated in disorder."

The advance in the Middle Don, besides threatening all of the communications and supply lines of the German hosts before Stalingrad, has blocked airbases which based planes used to supply the 22 divisions Field Marshal Gen. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

STAYS GRANTED THREE ACCUSED OF TREASON

Chicago, Dec. 22.—(P)—An indefinite stay of execution was granted today to three naturalized Germans condemned to die for treasonably aiding Herbert Haupt, executed Nazi saboteur.

Two judges of the United States circuit court of appeals approved a petition filed yesterday in behalf of Hans Haupt, Herbert's father; Walter Froehling, Herbert's uncle, and Otto Wergin, a friend of the Haupt family, and their wives. The women were sentenced to 25 years in prison.

The district court in which they were convicted set Jan. 22 for execution. This was set aside when the court of appeals fixed March 2 for hearing arguments on the appeal.

WANT BAN REMOVED
Pittsburgh, Dec. 22.—(P)—Declaring that western Pennsylvania has more gasoline than can be shipped, the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce said last night it will continue its fight to have the area removed from the eastern seaboard rationing zone.

1,250,000 Pounds of Turkey For Officers and Bluejackets

Washington, Dec. 22.—(P)—The navy, which is accustomed to doing things on a big scale in this global war, reported today that its officers and bluejackets would dine this Christmas Day on approximately 1,250,000 pounds of turkey.

In keeping with this gargantuan main dish, they will also have 600,000 pounds of ham, 1,300,000 pounds of potatoes, 1,225,000 pounds of other vegetables, 135,000 pounds of celery, about nine tons of cranberry sauce and 31,000 gallons of ice cream.

These items will be used to make up a variety of menus according to the judgment of the local authorities and the requirements of their men. However, the navy said that a typical menu for Christmas Day dinner would be as follows:

Pickles	Stuffed Celery	Olives
Baked Spiced Ham	Oyster Cocktail	Crackers
Mashed Irish Potatoes	Roast Turkey, Giblet	Gravy
Creamed Cauliflower	Apple Dressing	Candied Sweet Potatoes
Pumpkin Pie	Buttered Peas	Cranberry Sauce
Mince Pie	Hot Rolls, Butter	Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Cigars	Fruit Cake	Mixed Nuts and Hard Candy

NAZI PARTY BIRTHPLACE IS RAF TARGET

"Great Weight" of Bombs Start Fires in Munich For Second Successive Night

12 WARPLANES MISSING

London, Dec. 22.—(P)—British bombers smashed at Munich, birthplace of the Nazi party, last night, dropping a "great weight" of bombs and starting fires in their second successive night raid over the Reich.

Clouds hampered the bombers, and German night fighters rose to battle in bright moonlight above the cloud layer.

Two German fighters were shot down, while the British lost 12 bombers, the air ministry said. The loss indicated a heavy attacking force in the first blow at Munich, important war industry center, since Sept. 19.

Although details of the 1,350-mile round trip were not immediately disclosed, it was assumed that the great locomotive sheds in Munich were targets in the Allied program to cripple rail transport to Italy.

Munich has been hit four times before in major attacks.

The Berlin radio, locating the attack only as in southwest Germany, acknowledged some damage and casualties, but declared strong defenses had forced the raiders to scatter their bombs. The Germans claimed a toll of 11 British aircraft.

Additional news of the spectacular daylight raid by United States flying fortresses and Liberators on the German airfield at Romilly-sur-Seine in occupied France Sunday was disclosed, meanwhile, in a U. S. headquarters communique announcing that 44 German fighter planes had been shot down while trying to intercept the bombers.

German planes appeared at several places over the English coast.

Bombs from a low-flying Dornier 217 wrecked several houses at an inland town in southeastern France. (Turn to Page Nine)

National War Service Bill Is Prepared

Washington, Dec. 22.—(P)—The draft of a National War Service bill prepared by Grenville Clark, New York attorney who prepared one of the first Selective Service bills introduced in congress, was circulated among Washington officials today.

"Nothing less than the prompt enactment of a comprehensive national war service act will solve our manpower problem," Clark said in an introduction to the draft, which he said would be sent to all members of congress.

The draft was the third of such a bill prepared by Clark. It was completed after he had visited England, following a conference with President Roosevelt, to examine operations of Britain's national service. (Turn to Page Nine)

Mercury On Upward Swing

Winter came to Pennsylvania officially today, but with the thermometer on an upward swing, its official debut was a rather feeble anti-climax to its bustling build-up.

In the two days preceding the beginning of the winter solstice at 8:40 a. m. today, new records had been set by the bitter cold that was blamed for at least eight deaths in Pennsylvania.

But the mercury began a climb yesterday, that sent readings up into the 20's throughout most of the state, and last night the below-zero readings of the previous two nights were missing for the most part.

Philadelphia firemen answered a total of 77 calls in the 24 hours between midnight Sunday and midnight last night, setting a new record for the year and approaching the all-time high of 80, set five years ago.

March On Rostov

Russian forces, intensifying their winter offensive, threaten to cut off German armies in the Stalingrad area and the Caucasus with the new drive on Rostov. Map shows this pincer movement and the encircling thrust aimed at Smolensk in the Moscow sector.

Maine Senator Asserts That APO Director Was Crucified

"BUNGLING" CHARGED

Washington, Dec. 22.—(P)—Asserting that administration leaders "crucified" Leon Henderson to appease congressional critics, Senator Brewster (R-Maine) predicted today they soon would be "praying for his return" as price administrator.

Henderson has submitted his resignation to President Roosevelt and is expected to be replaced by Senator Brown (D-Mich.) early in the new year.

As Brewster spoke, Rep. Andresen (R-Minn.) issued a statement assailing what he called "discrimination and bungling in government handling of gasoline and oil."

Andresen declared he had received no reply to a letter which he wrote Henderson on Nov. 22 inquiring about the source of gasoline which he said was used to fly Mr. and Mrs. Henderson to their New Jersey home in Millville, N. J., in a private airplane on election day.

At a press conference Saturday Henderson was asked about reports he had wasted gasoline to fly to his home. He said he accepted a new name just brought into (Turn to Page Nine)

Alias Santa Claus Optimistic As Checks Continue to Arrive

"Just one more day for the generous folk of the city to send me their checks" said Alias Santa Claus this morning when the lad arrived from the post office with the mail "and only these little checks?" It looked for a minute as if the old fellow was going to let a salty trickle roll down his cheek but he opened up one letter and took a peek. It bore the address of the Defense Council and old Alias might have had an idea it was an order for a blackout but instead it was an order for sunshine as a check for $50 rolled out. Now that check represented a lot of scrap gathered and donated by the good people of the community. So a lot of folks had a hand in making Christmas really Christmas for some unfortunate.

And then Bert Baker, good faithful Bert, who has done a whale of a lot of good for unfortunate folks in this community sent Alias Santa Claus a check for $10. Every year

Allies Wedge Defenses At Buna Airfield

Tanks Employed For First Time in Area Used To Pin Japs Down

PROGRESS CONTINUES

BY WILLIAM BONI
Somewhere in New Guinea, Dec. 22.—(P)—An Allied general attack, which began last Sunday and employed tanks in the Buna area for the first time, within three days has pinned the Japanese down to two major sectors. The westernmost runs two miles from the junction of the old and new Buna air strips to the Buna government station; the other from a point west of Buna village to Cape Killerton.

In the eastern area the Japanese defenses run about a mile inland. In the western, which is shaped like a rough triangle, the enemy-held territory extends approximately two miles inland at its deepest point.

These sectors are separated by the American force which captured Buna village, with Gropa Point the likely enemy concentration center of the eastern portion, and Samananda the key Jap holding point to the west.

The Allies, however, report continued progress. The night of December 20, the Australians, driving west from Cape Endiadeere along the coastal stretch, reached a point less than a mile and a half from Buna government station near the mouth of a creek, with their line running southeast along the creek to a destroyed Jap bridge, thence southwest (Turn to Page Thirteen)

SCREEN SWEETHEART OF ANDY'S TO WED

Los Angeles, Dec. 22.—(P)—Andy Hardy's sweetheart is going to be married, but not to Andy, the fictional character of the screen.

Ann Rutherford, 23, the film actress who plays the sweetheart parts, appeared at the county clerk's office and filed her notice of intention to marry David May II, 30, son of a department store magnate, Tom May.

Lad Accused Of Shooting Step-Brother

Union City, Dec. 22.—(P)—Edward Wright, 17, died in Union City hospital last night of gunshot wounds which District Attorney Herbert Mook of Crawford county said had been inflicted by Thomas Blakeslee, 11-year-old step-brother of the victim.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Carl Blakeslee, was a patient at the hospital when she gave birth to a baby on December 13.

Mook said state motor police quoted Thomas as saying he had had "some trouble" with his brother, decided first to kill him, but after meditating in a woodshed behind the kitchen and shot Edward.

Mook said no charge had been (Turn to Page Nine)

Strikes Tie Up War Plants

By the Associated Press
Strikes in Ohio and Michigan today tied up two plants producing ship plate and guns, impeding the war effort, while 2,400 miners struck in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields and an equal number threatened to walk out at a season when fuel demands are at a peak.

About 1,000 CIO unionists stopped work at the Republic Steel Corporation's huge continuous strip mill at Cleveland, and Vice President C. M. White telegraphed federal officials that the production stoppage would impede ship production.

A strike which started in the gun department of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company plant at Jackson, Mich., yesterday spread to the entire plant today, stopping production.

On the other side of the picture, a four-day strike of compositors at the Repository, only daily newspaper at Canton, Ohio, was ended by an agreement for a labor department conciliation panel to hold a hearing on the pay dispute.

Here's Swell Idea For Other Folks to Adopt

New Castle, Dec. 22.—(P)
As a Christmas present, the Johnson Bronze Company announced it is sending each of its 240 employees now in the armed forces a $50 war bond.

Company President P. J. Flaherty said Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, the World War flying ace just back from his rescue in the Pacific, inspired the idea.

"After hearing him on Sunday afternoon, it makes those of us at home realize just how little we are doing for the war effort," said Flaherty. "His story should urge every American on to bigger production so we can get the boys back home as soon as possible."

May Abandon Subsidies In Price Set - Up

Administration Reported Ready to Increase Ceilings

COSTS ARE EXCESSIVE

Washington, Dec. 22.—(P)—The administration was reported today to have abandoned the idea of using subsidies generally to hold down the cost of food.

Instead, it was understood increases in ceiling prices would be permitted to wipe out inequities that may arise and such as now confront millers whose ceiling price on flour was pegged to $1.22 wheat whereas the price is now $1.32 a bushel.

Weighing against subsidies was said to be their excessive cost. Agriculture department officials said the penny a quart milk subsidy in New York City alone was costing between $800,000 and $1,000,000 a month.

They contended if subsidies were extended to the 25 areas under federal milk marketing agreement (Turn to Page Thirteen)

"SHARE THE RIDE" OR HAVE BOOK SUSPENDED

Pittsburgh, Dec. 22.—(P)—The OPA today threatened to suspend the "B" and "C" books of motorists who do not carry passengers whenever possible.

George A. Hoeveler, OPA rationing officer here, said inspectors reported "many motorists" with "B" and "C" books were seen traveling alone daily and making "no attempt to pick up anybody en route."

Evacuation Organizations Are Lagging

Harrisburg, Dec. 22.—(P)—G. Albert Stewart, secretary of forests and waters and Pennsylvania evacuation chief, today ordered county evacuation heads to complete organization of local units by the end of the year.

Stewart said county groups had been set up in 40 counties, but organization was lagging in the remaining 27.

"There has been a little reluctance on the part of the people of the state, particularly in inland counties, to realize that evacuation plans are just as important as air (Turn to Page Nine)

St. Nicholas Snowed Under As Mail Pours Into Tiny Hamlet

BY ROBERT E. JOHNSON
Santa Claus, Ind., Dec. 22.—(P)—Santa Claus is "snowed under" again with the annual deluge of Christmas mail.

Letters, cards and parcels numbering more than a million pieces have arrived at the post office in this southern Indiana hamlet with the name so closely associated with Christmas.

Letters bearing addresses such as "Santa Claus, Special Delivery, North Pole," Mr. S. Claus, or just plain "Dear Santa," find their way to this tiny community while thousands of others are sent here for e-mailing so the receiver may get a letter with a "Santa Claus" postmark.

DARING FORAY AGAINST AXIS IS REVEALED

Allied Forces Stab to Within Five Miles of Bizerte In Hit-and-Run Engagement

LOSSES REPORTED LIGHT

London, Dec. 22.—(P)—A commando raid on Tunisia, in which Americans were reported to have participated, stabbed to within five miles of Bizerte in a hit-and-run foray last week, Reuters said today.

The report of American participation, which Reuters did not mention and which was not confirmed, was made by the London Telegraph.

Reuters' dispatch, datelined "With Lieut. Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson's army in Tunisia, said the landing was made in heavy seas and that the commandos just had returned to their base."

This daring foray into the core of the Nazis' last stronghold in North Africa was disclosed as Field Marshal Rommel's army was reported only 100 miles from Tripoli and apparently planning to continue westward all the way to Tunisia to join German forces battling the Allies there.

Most of the raiders "had to swim for it," their commander said, but losses were light because the landing was unopposed.

One group was said to have penetrated within five miles of Bizerte but, because of its fatigue, was withdrawn to the hills to rest and prepare for a raid the next night.

The incursion lasted several days, he said, and the raiders had to regain the beach through about 15 miles of enemy-held territory in (Turn to Page Thirteen)

New Order On B and C Units

Washington, Dec. 22.—(P)—Issuance of B and C gasoline ration books is being halted for the next few days in the 17 east coast states while the Office of Price Administration readjusts unit values to conform with the new unit values of the coupons. The unit values in the east were cut from four to three gallons each over the weekend.

Validity of the B and C books already issued was not affected by the order temporarily halting the issuance of new ones.

The order came after James F. Byrnes, director of economic stabilization, announced yesterday that there is "no hope for lessening of the restrictions upon the use of gasoline and fuel oil" in view of increasing military demands and transportation difficulties.

Byrnes plans to meet again with Petroleum Administrator Ickes and other officials tomorrow.

MAN FATALLY INJURED AT A DRINKING PARTY

Pittsburgh, Dec. 22.—(P)—Edward Williams, 32, died last night of an abdominal gunshot wound which police said was inflicted during a Saturday night drinking party.

Sergeant John Boggs, 36, of the Allegheny county police, formally charged with firing the shot, testified he was "nervous and didn't remember much about what happened" at the party. He was questioned further today about the shooting.

Dr. Ball Gave Malpractice Case History

Members of the Warren County Bar Association and the Warren County Medical Society met together yesterday afternoon at the Conewango Club.

Alexander C. Flick Jr., told very interestingly what constitutes a good medical witness, saying that personal injuries and cases arising in workmen's compensation form the great majority of cases in which a physician is called upon to testify. He said doctors should make a good impression before the jury, just as some lawyers succeed in doing. The doctor should be qualified as an expert and, in the larger cities this is considered very important, he should state facts unconditionally. In cross-examination he must not lose his head when an attack is made on his credibility. He should stick to the facts and not be afraid to admit a lack of knowledge if puzzling questions are asked. Lawyers, Mr. Flick stated, may purposely seek to confuse the witness or demand the impossible.

Dr. M. V. Ball gave a history of the only case of malpractice tried in Warren county in the 125 years of the court's existence. It occurred in 1881, was argued for several years and in 1886 the jury disagreed. A change of venue was asked for by the plaintiffs and the case was taken to Elk county but never brought to trial. Judge William Brown's charge to the jury, which was published in full in the Warren Mail in 1886 and was considered a very able one, was read.

Twenty-six physicians and 15 lawyers attended the meeting, which was followed by dinner.

Seals Are People's Weapons To Fight Against Saboteur

"We hope to hear from the persons who have not yet acknowledged the Seals they received in November" was the statement made today by Homer M. Mohr, 1542 Christmas Seal Sale Chairman. "It's never too late to send in Christmas Seal contributions and the money works the year around."

Mr. Mohr expressed the appreciation of the Tuberculosis Society to all Seal purchasers, saying: "Without your aid, the work of preventing and controlling tuberculosis, which kills more persons between 15 and 45 than any other disease, could not go on. Tuberculosis thrives on war and cannot be killed with tanks and guns. "The medical profession and the Tuberculosis Society cannot win the fight alone. The people must take an active part. Every Christmas Seal used is a definite reminder to the person receiving the mail that this is the people's fight. Christmas Seals are our weapons."

"To the men and women who not only bought Seals, but who gave their time and energy to the campaign, the Society and, we are sure, all residents are deeply grateful."

Blackout Is Due Within Nine Nights

On a night air raid or blackout test ordered before the end of the month The Council of Defense suggests that all persons leaving their homes for the evening turn out their lights or arrange to have them extinguished in event the siren sound. The OCD has encouraged Christmas lighting but has stressed the importance of having such lighting under control to conform to blackout regulation of electricity.

The air raid alarm tests now come direct from the First Fighter Command and two were scheduled for this month, one in the daylight and one at night. The daylight test was recently held on Sunday.

In the past violations of the rules pertaining to the raid tests have been treated as non-intentional but in the future there will be less leniency shown. The County Council of Defense has set up a board to check violations reported and if the board deems it wise violators are arrested and fined. All persons have been warned to comply with the regulations and to take especial care that they extinguish all lights when they leave home as violations will not be dealt with lightly. Fire places must also be screened so that no glow is apparent from the out of doors. Within the next nine nights the blackout will come and all householders and business men should be prepared.

BIDS INVITED FOR TIMBER

Sealed bids for the purchase of approximately 50,000 board feet of logs and felled trees, principally white and black oak, with a small percentage of sugar maple, yellow birch and hemlock, on approximately twenty-five acres of State Game Lands No. 143 in portions of Warrants 140 and 143, Pittsfield Township, Warren County, are invited by the Pennsylvania Game Commission, Division of Game Land Management, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, to be received not later than twelve o'clock, noon (E.W.T.), Monday, January 11, 1943.

The material offered for sale was cut approximately one year ago. The logs average ten to twelve inches in diameter at the small end of the log and are in lengths of eight, ten and twelve feet. Some felled trees which have not been bucked up into logs are also offered.

Bids shall be submitted on the stumpage basis at so much per M. board feet. Scribers Decimal ("C") Rule on forms to be supplied by the Commission. The successful bidder shall be required to sign an agreement form and to furnish such surety for the faithful performance of the contract as the Commission may require.

Bidding forms, samples of the agreement form, and details concerning the material offered for sale may be obtained from Hayes T. Englert, 14 West First Street, Oil City, Pennsylvania; George H. Burdick, Box 266, Tidoute, Pennsylvania, or The Pennsylvania Game Commission, Division of Game Land Management, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

The Commission reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

TIMES TOPICS

WON MUCH FAVOR

Merle Graham has won much favor and many thanks this Christmas season through his kindness in packaging goods for those who desired it. This was done as a matter of service and no purchase had to be made to have Merle daily with the wrapping paper and string.

AVENUE WAS FLOWED

Pennsylvania avenue this morning was in the best condition that it has been since the storm broke over the city last week. Snow plows were put to work during the night and this morning the excess snow was piled up along the curbs. This made it possible for the motorists to park close to the curb and to keep the center part of the street open and in good shape for driving.

STORES OPEN EVENINGS

Warren's stores are open tonight and tomorrow evening for the convenience of shoppers but on Thursday evening they will close at 6 o'clock. Last evening a throng of shoppers was busy making selections in the stores and many of them are beginning to evidence the ravages made upon stocks. Metal toys are becoming scarcer but the wood and plastic variety are still plenty and are finding ready sale. Games of card board are also in quantity and perfumes and toilet articles are numerous.

TIMBER SALE

In line with the policy of the State Game Commission to see usable lumber from the game preserves there appears on another page an advertisement for the sale of 50,000 board feet of timber on Game Lands No. 143, Warrants 140 and 143 in Pittsfield township. The timber offered was cut about one year ago and some felled trees which have not been bucked up into logs are also for sale. Hayes Englert, district game protector, Oil City is in charge of the sale.

ROTARIANS HEAR OFFICER

A most interesting talk was given at the Rotary Club meeting yesterday at the Y. W. C. A. by Lieutenant W. M. Cashman M. D. At the close of the address President Rosenzweig assured the doctor that his talk was one of the most gripping heard at Rotary during the past year. He recounted a number of his experiences during the past year in Ireland, Iceland, and points in the Arctic Ocean. He held the undivided attention of his auditors among whom, in addition to an almost 100 per cent Rotary attendance, were a number of visitors including the members of the Warren board of education.

EXPECT PENNANT SOON

The Salvage Committee of the County Council of Defense which is doing great work in garnering scrap for the war effort expects that the pennant awarded this county will arrive soon. It had been planned by the state committee to deliver the pennants personally but due to the restrictions on travel until the middle of January the pennants will be sent to the county committees by mail. It is requested that all committees make arrangements for a program of some sort when the pennants are received and hoisted on the flag staffs. The Warren County pennant will fly from the staff in the court house yard.

CHRISTMAS 1942

Again we think of Christmas. The time of joy and cheer, But war and gloom o'ershadows, And hearts are filled with fear.

Ring, oh ye bells of Christmas, Above the battle's roar, We long to hear your message Of "Peace on earth" once more.

In every clime and country, On land and on the sea, Men are hating, are fighting, Dying for you and me.

They hear no bells of Christmas, But sound of battle's din, As they fight for home and country, This cruel war to win.

Fight on, ye men of freedom, As one united band, To banish tyrants' greed and lust Forever from the land.

The angels weep in pity, As down from heav'n above, Behold a world in chaos, Not joy—not peace—not love.

Ring! Ring ye bells of Christmas, 'Till heaven and earth resound, With "Peace on earth, good will to men."

And lasting peace be found.

SCHOOLS AID BOND SALES

The War Savings Committee of Warren and Forest counties has received excellent cooperation from the Warren Public Schools in the sale of United States War Savings Stamps and Bonds, beginning last April.

A large percentage of all pupils in all buildings are participating, and last spring, before the summer vacation, a total of more than $5,000 in stamps and bonds was sold in the school buildings. Since the opening of school in the fall to December 1st, an aggregate of $6,418.23 has been put into this war effort by the pupils of Warren schools.

These figures do not include the purchase of bonds by teachers and members of the staff on the pay roll allotment plan in which the entire school system is participating.

SLOWDOWN

There is the tale of the girl worker in a huge plant making vital plane parts who didn't know about the union's production ceiling, and doubled it her first day on the job. She was told by the union's representative to take the excess parts home overnight, bring them in the next day, and machine them over again. But on the way out inspectors caught her and induced her to tell the story.

The union representative was discharged without protest by his associates.

Has the ceiling been lifted? No. Production still lags far below what a new girl could turn out on her first day.

DON'T ENLIST

Because the United States has no co-ordinated manpower policy, the Army has been obliged to inaugurate a "don't enlist" campaign in some areas.

Enlistment of key men from aircraft, ship and other vital plants has the Army worried. Quartermaster General Edmund B. Gregory is trying to counteract it by making clear that inductees will enjoy every advantage that is open to an enlistee, so there is no reason for jumping the gun.

Another way of course would be to adopt an overall plan under which men vital to war industry would be neither accepted for enlistment nor taken in the draft.

THANKS A LOT, FOLKS!

The series of games staged last evening in the Legion rooms in Liberty street as a benefit for The Alias Santa Claus Fund, was a pronounced success and we take this means of thanking each and every one who contributed in any way toward the event.

Some very generous donations have been received for the project, for which we are very grateful, but more contributions will be needed if the activity is to continue to function through the coming twelve months as it has in the past.

Send checks or cash to "The Alias Santa Claus Fund," Times-Mirror.

While we're distributing bouquets it would be appropriate to mention the young women and all other clerks in local stores: You are doing a fine job, with true courtesy and splendid consideration for the customer. Your praises aren't often sung—but you have ours!

Remember, that to throw away or destroy a tin can is an unpatriotic act. One ton of cans is being used monthly by every thousand people. Every gross ton of tin cans contains 2,215 pounds of vital steel scrap and 22 pounds of more vitally needed tin. We cannot afford to waste an ounce of tin nor a pound of steel.

Perhaps you may not have noticed it, but the force at the Warren post office is doing one swell job in keeping the Christmas mail moving. No effort is being spared to avert congestion at the post office.

After giving Pennsylvania avenue the once over this morning one is inspired to comment—what a whale of a difference a snow plow makes.

Getting around about time to be giving some thought to those New Year's resolutions.

The Axis seems to be on the retreat on most fronts!

Two more days, and they're short ones!

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — It begins to look as if we may at last get the lowdown on Puerto Rico.

There have been violent rumblings that all is not well with our island outpost in the Caribbean. The political situation there has been and still is a muddle and a mess, with more verbal violence than has taken place in any of our states or cities for a good many years. Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, governor of the island, has been called "Rex, the Red," the "reddish Don Quixote of the New Deal," and worse.

There have been reports and charges that thousands of Puerto Rican natives are starving; that infant mortality is "beyond description"; that ships coming back from the island have been weighted with ballast when they could have brought sugar; that the foodstuffs sent them are things which they can't eat.

When Tugwell appeared recently before the Puerto Rican legislature, 27 senators and representatives "took a walk" and left the session in an uproar.

THE situation has finally come to a head and the Senate, on a motion by Sen. Dennis Chavez (New Mexico Democrat), is going to look into conditions there. However, the Senate ordered its committee to confine itself to the food and storage and unemployment only.

Washington observers are getting a snicker out of this limitation on the committee's operations. Handsome, 50-year-old

"Rex" Tugwell has been under fire almost from the moment he joined the brain-trusters in the dark days of the depression. There is no reason to believe that the opposition senators will lay off him now that he is in one of the worst insular messes that World War II has brought about.

CHAVEZ is chairman of the sub-committee. He has indicated that he doesn't intend to spare the rod in ferreting out the errors that have brought Puerto Rico to grief. The two other Democratic members of the committee are Senators Homer T. Bone of Washington, and Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana. Republican members of the committee are Senators Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, and John A. Danaher, of Connecticut.

Senators Nye and Danaher are vigorous opponents of the New Deal and it would be inconceivable if either would pass an opportunity to plaster one of its long-standing stalwarts. Nye's reputation as an investigator is well established by those who have watched Danaher on the Senate floor predict he'll give an all-out performance in his effort to uncover mismanagement and incompetence in our handling of Puerto Rico.

Capital observers say if you think this committee is going to confine itself to mere food shortages, there's another think coming. Out of it, we may get enough facts to clarify the strangest situation that has occurred in the United States' modern management of its insular affairs.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Paul Stewart shot Cary Grant—again, and this time from the right angle—and then said goodbye to everybody on the set.

He had shot Cary before, as part of his chore for "From Here to Victory," but he was standing on the wrong side. He didn't match with himself in preceding scenes. This time everything was in perfect order. His gat, fired through his own well-tailored grey coat, burned a hole in the pocket of same, which was according to script. It made no difference to Paul Stewart, because already he had an order to replace the suit at studio expense, and so he could say goodbye—to Grant, whom he left wounded but not fatally, to David Hempstead, the producer, to H. C. Potter, the director, and to every last grip and prop man on the set.

"I hope I haven't missed anyone," he said, leaving the stage. "They've all been so swell to me—say, I like this lot."

IT is probably part of Paul Stewart's destiny that he should be introduced as the man who shot Cary Grant. It could be avoided. I could present him, instead, as the man who urged Orson Welles to pursue the air. Or the fellow who talked George Abbott into giving Eddie Albert a break on the stage.

Stewart, a native New Yorker who wanted to be an actor but put off acting because he knew it was insecure, is the big villain in Grant's new movie. It's his third film, the others being "Citizen Kane" and "Johnny Eager."

It was in 1935, when both Stewart and Welles were auditioning for radio, that the two met. Stewart remembered the Welles voice and personality, and several months later, when Orson still was looking for a job, they met again. There followed a long association on the air and in the theater. Paul being part of that Martian invasion which so startled the country's listeners, and of many another Welles venture, including the first Welles movie.

STEWART is 34, lean, intense, dark-haired. He knows that he would be typed, definitely, as the gangster in pictures. This is why he has, oddly for a fellow who resisted acting until he couldn't put it off longer, a determination to be a director.

That's for after the war. He was saying goodbye to everybody because he's now a steady employee of the Office of War Information, charged with a daily 2-hour and 15-minute program shortwaved over the world. He was here on leave of absence to make the picture to pay his income tax.

Report to the Nation...

A year ago, when Japan struck at Pearl Harbor, some people had misgivings about the railroads. They knew the railroads had been through twelve tough years... that they had about 25 per cent fewer freight cars and locomotives than in 1929. Yet they were being called on to shoulder the weight of the greatest armament program in American history, if not in the world. Now, what does the record show? Briefly summarized, it shows this...

Today railroads are delivering 110,000,000 tons of freight a month, the greatest tonnage in their history.

Three times as many troops moved in the first 10 months as in the same period of the last war—8,000,000.

Shipyards break all records! And railroads helped by delivering materials on time.

"Pinch hitting" for all tankers, railroads are rushing to the East about 800,000 barrels of oil daily.

To keep industry going and homes warm, the railroads have hauled 1,600,000 tons of coal a day.

Yet despite their war load, the railroads are doing their best to meet essential home needs.

One question still remains unanswered. How could the railroads do so much with so little? In the "lean" years they replaced the old with new. So, when war came, the railroads were ready to do their share... and, "keep 'em rolling!"

Boys Win State Honors

In the state project contest for boys taking Vocational Agriculture in high schools eleven prizes were awarded to boys from Warren and Forest counties. This is indeed above average. Each of the 350 schools in the state offering vocational Agriculture submitted at least three of their best projects to the state contest, making the grand total of over 1500 projects in the contest.

The winners are as follows:

1. Youngsville High School—R. L. Albright, instructor.

(a) Harold Cobb—6th in dairy records.

(b) John Taydus—15th in potato production. 6th in potato yield.

(c) Edward Leofsky—12th in potato production. 5th in potato yield.

2. Sugar Grove High School—Eli Martin, instructor.

(a) Raymond Lawson—3rd in laying hens.

(b) Everett Loomis—7th in gold medal contest in egg records. (Previous winners compete against each other. A very difficult contest.)

3. Tionesta—Hickory Schools—Karl Flower, instructor.

(a) Buster Manross—7th in small fruit (strawberries).

(b) Everett Wagner—14th in poultry meat (broilers).

4. Lander High School—Lawrence Orner, principal.

(a) Ronald Stanton—13th in potato production.

5. Russell High School—Robert Huntley, principal.

(a) Walter Wheelock—5th in sow and litter.

This is a record of which we can be justly proud as our boys were in competition with boys from the very best sections of the state. It indicates that the boys are willing to work and high caliber of teaching. These boys are really aiding in the "Food For Freedom" program.

The produce from these boys' projects alone totals as follows:

Potatoes—2548 bushels valued at $3,019.34.

Dairy Records—151,425 lbs. of milk, valued at $7,546.49.

Small Fruit—1200 strawberry plants, valued at $97.50.

Broilers—2648 lbs. of meat, valued at $485.60.

Laying Hens—3562 dozen of eggs, valued at $1547.84. 820 lbs. of meat.

Sow and litter—49 suckling pigs, 3 sows, 3 gilts, 1 barrow, 2 purebred boars—valued at $865.00.

The above figures are for the winners only and does not include the additional four books which were entered in the state project contest but did not place. So, out of 15 projects in the state contest, we were awarded 11 prizes, or 73 per cent were winners.

McClintock School Had Fine Program

The children at the McClintock school presented an unusually fine program to the patrons of the school on Thursday afternoon, December 17. A Christmas operetta, "A Package For You," was grades under the direction of Miss Dorothy Lincoln and Miss Grayce Jolley. Both the music and dialogue of this operetta were written by Miss Lincoln. A song, "Silent Night," by the first grade, and "Toyland" by the second grade decorated their part of the program.

The departmental groups under the direction of Miss Alice Anderson gave the following numbers:

Christmas Comes to the Shoe—a play by the third grade.

Song—Long Time Ago—Third grade.

Hanging the Christmas Stockings—play by the fourth and fifth grades.

This also includes the choral reading of "The Night Before Christmas".

Christmas at Casey's—An Irish play by the sixth grade.

STRUTHERS-WELLS EMPLOYEES' PARTY

Wednesday, last, marked the date for a delightful dinner party at 6:30 at the Hotel Carver, given by the management to the lady employees of the Warren office of the Struthers Wells Corporation. Different departments in the organization presented the ladies with flower decorations for the tables and candy after the dinner.

Between courses each one introduced the person on her right with an added word about her hobby or favorite interest, after Mrs. Mary A'Harris had recited a clever poem regarding the procedure to be followed. The regular gift exchange was admirably handled by the purchasing department with a humorous poem given by Miss Ruth Schuler about each member of the personnel. Being the recipient of so many gifts, and in keeping with the Christmas spirit, it was decided to make a contribution to the Allas Santa Claus Fund, which was taken care of immediately.

Following the dinner, the pupils of the Katherine Dawn Williams Dancing School gave their Christmas fantasy, "The Toy Shop," to the delight of all present. From the arrival of the guests to the conclusion of the program by all joining in singing "The Star Spangled Banner," the affair was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the 100% attendance of the Struthers Wells Corporation and the navy department lady employees—numbering forty-seven.

ALLEN CLASS HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Dunham parlors of the First Methodist church were beautifully decorated with many Christmas trees for the annual holiday meeting of the Allen Class members. A brief business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. H. L. Blair, with devotions led by Miss Arlene Schure and caroling accompanied by Miss Lillian Larsen.

Miss Kathryn Martin gave two readings, "The Little Serving Maid" by Grace Noll Crowell and "Christmas on Tinicum" by Elsie Singmaster. Miss Larsen was at the piano for three selections by Mrs. Everett Borg, "O Holy Night," "The Baby Jesus" and "A Christmas Story".

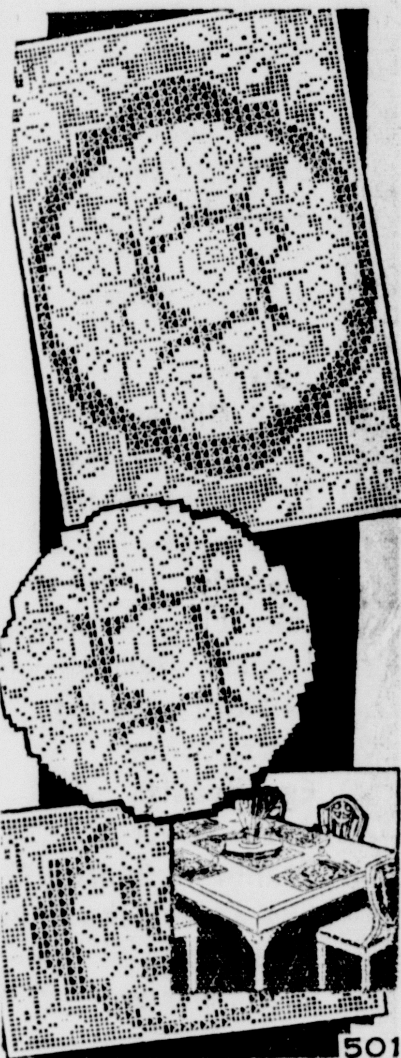

To conclude, refreshments were served by the following hostess committee: Mrs. N. J. Andersen, Mrs. H. N. Elmqvist, Mrs. William Culbertson, Mrs. Gertrude Bainbridge, Mrs. Hazel Carlson, Miss Pearl Lund, Mrs. R. L. Blodgett, Miss Gladys Knowlton and Mrs. Richard Thomas.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. E. Lee Dunham and Mrs. Max Schwab entertained with a birthday party at the former's cottage at Oakview to honor their sister and daughter, Marjorie Stuve. Ice skating was the main event of the evening, after which refreshments were served and the guest of honor was presented with lovely gifts from the following: Dolores Schwab, Lois Hennessey, Martha Sedon, Ann Tingwall and the hostesses.

It is estimated that enough gasoline was used unnecessarily in last year's driving to have filled 1,000,000 tank cars.

Spirit of the American Christmas Heard This Year Around the World

CORPORAL HEINZ ARNOLD, U. S. ARMY, who replaced Dr. O. H. Peasgood, regular organist at Westminster Abbey, on the occasion of the American Forces' Thanksgiving Day Service there on November 26. Brought up in Patchogue, Long Island; both Arnold's parents are organists. While attending classes at DeWitt Clinton High School and at Trinity College, N. Y. City, he spent all his spare time at the organ. Today (at 30), he is now assisting Chaplain James L. Blakeney. He has always played in Churches; says he cannot learn to play any hot music. Since coming to England he has played at various churches, including the Windsor Castle Chapel.

Voices of boys in the American armed forces are echoing from every continent on the globe this Christmas season. Chaplains are on the front lines and their reports indicate that the young soldiers sing their carols and Christmas hymns even in the face of the enemy in North Africa, in the Indies and in the distant isles of the Pacific as well as on the bleak coasts of Iceland and Alaska. Their songs symbolize the peace that is to come—the peace of liberty and everlasting Christian freedom.

Country Club Will Cancel Annual New Year's Eve Function

It is announced today by the chairman of the entertainment committee for the Coneywango Valley Country Club that due to circumstances beyond control, it will be necessary to cancel the annual New Year's Eve celebration.

For several days the gasoline situation in the east has been precarious and it is impossible to foretell what the future may hold. The government has stressed the importance of preserving precious gasoline and has instructed American motorists to eliminate the use of gasoline and rubber for pleasure driving. Therefore, invitations for the New Year's Eve event will not be issued.

In addition to the gasoline shortage, the committee found it impossible to acquire an orchestra for the occasion. It is also difficult to plan a menu in these days of war; no caterer can be certain that the food requirements can be fulfilled. Weather conditions and essential deliveries are also unfavorable.

The board of directors hopes that not too many members will be disappointed and promise an interesting season for 1943.

YWCA Directors Plan Annual Meet

Mrs. Carl Lundahl, president, conducted last night's meeting of the YWCA board of directors, Mrs. H. C. Warren including in the devotional period the reading of a Christmas poem.

Routine business reported showed an attendance of 2,116 for the activities building, 642 of this number being in the Girl Reserve department.

Plans were discussed for the annual meeting on January 18, and the following were appointed to serve as a committee on arrangements: Mrs. F. O. Peterson, Miss Bertha Fraring and Miss Jennie Ryan.

It was decided by the committee on food service and approved by the board of directors that no meals would be served on Saturday, December 26, in order to give the employees of this department an extra holiday, following a very busy month.

It was with much regret that announcement of the resignation of Mrs. T. C. Colley, effective at the annual meeting of the organization was learned. Dr. and Mrs. Colley will be leaving Warren to take up their work in Erie.

Residents are eliminating their out of door Christmas lighting this year which in previous years has added much to the attractiveness of the Christmas season, especially for the children.

Richard Dahlstrom has returned from Pittsburgh where he attended the funeral of a young niece, who died following the birth of a child. This makes the fourth member of Mr. Dahlstrom's family to pass away within recent months, his mother, his brother, his youngest sister having gone.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson a baby son, this is the second child, the first one also being a boy. The mother who was Ethel Goodwill, and babe, are in the Warren hospital.

GARLAND

Garland, Dec. 17—There was a good attendance at the services held in the Presbyterian church Sunday, Dec. 13, being the 125th anniversary of its founding. Rev. Reed of Erie brought the message that pair a high tribute to the faithful that has weathered the prosperity as well as the adversity of this church, which is the oldest church of any denomination in the county. Perhaps no one is more closely associated with the history of the church than is Miss Ellen Davis, who came from Pittsburgh where she was a teacher to make her home here. It was in the home of her great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James White where the church was first organized and her grandparents on her paternal side were charter members.

Miss Jane Munn of Warren sang a solo in her usual sweet voice. Among the out of town people attending were Mr. Reed and son, Erie, Mrs. Hyer, Clarendon, Rev. and Mrs. Perrin, Sugar Grove, Mrs. Wm. Munn, Mr. Gordon Munn and Miss Jane Munn and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Young, Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Engstrom and son of Youngsville.

The Irwin family who have manifested such a keen interest in the churches and the community entertained in their home several out of town guests.

A very substantial offering was found on collection plate, some very generous gifts coming from out of town guests, all for which the church is most grateful.

Several out of town residents attended the dedication services for the Catholic church in Tidionte on Sunday December 13.

Stanley Taydus has returned to his army duties with the U. S. army in Louisiana. Stanley has gained in weight, looked the picture of health and had high praise for the army life and the courtesy shown him on the way home.

Christmas messages have been received from Tony Stec with the United States army somewhere in England.

Residents are eliminating their out of door Christmas lighting this year which in previous years has added much to the attractiveness of the Christmas season, especially for the children.

Richard Dahlstrom has returned from Pittsburgh where he attended the funeral of a young niece, who died following the birth of a child. This makes the fourth member of Mr. Dahlstrom's family to pass away within recent months, his mother, his brother, his youngest sister having gone.

Garland responded to the black-out Sunday, Dec. 13 and the local wardens were on the job. Several were taken to task because they were on the road on the way to their homes and refused to abide by the order to go in off the street. Pedestrians should bear in mind there is a considerable fine attached to this disobeying of orders and the local wardens, who

Eleven Mobile Units Donated By Murphy's Women Workers

(Special correspondence to the Times-Mirror)
McKeesport, Dec. 21.—The American Red Cross today received an expensive and unusual Christmas gift because the 10,000 girl employees of the G. C. Murphy Company "five and ten cent" stores originated a "million dollar idea".
In only four weeks time, the girls acting entirely on their own initiative, raised $21,000 in voluntary contributions and bought eleven (11) mobile field units for use by the American Red Cross in ten different cities of the United States where they were needed most.
The idea had its beginning on a November evening when a group of G. C. Murphy Co. girls met in committee at the home office in McKeesport. One of the girls pointed out that the girls were already doing their bit with contributions to war agencies but each employee might welcome a chance to do something extra that would emphasize their determination to help win the war. "Wouldn't it be nice if we could buy an ambulance," one of the girls suggested.
The idea took fire and in a few Murphy stores with letters and home-made bulletins, also appointed a chairman in each store. Mrs. Grace Johnson was chairman in charge of the campaign here in Warren.
The idea was enthusiastically accepted among all the girls of the 207 Murphy stores which are located in 12 states and the District of Columbia. Telegrams began to come into the McKeesport committee announcing pledge after pledge.
Then contributions began to pour in from the girls of all the Murphy stores and in less than four weeks the campaign which started on a shoestring was over. In those few weeks, the girls had contributed enough money, dimes, quarters and dollars to raise close to $21,000. Instead of one or two units the girls could buy eleven (11) fully equipped mobile field units.
The units are listed along with locations to which they will be assigned and descriptions of their war-time uses:
Disaster Unit, Syracuse, N. Y. and nearby communities... ready for any war time emergency or disaster.
Ambulance; Mobile Ala., work in and around shipyards.
Canteen unit; Youngstown, Ohio... feeding troops going through, soldiers stationed there, and in line of disaster.
Canteen unit; Charleston, W. Va. (same uses as above).
Army ambulance; Jeffersonville, Ind. in connection with all Red Cross work in Clark county.
Army ambulance, Franklin, Ind. in connection with all Red Cross work in Johnson county.
Disaster unit; Miami, Fla. to be used in and around troop encampments.
Canteen unit; Newport News, Va. feeding Army and Navy men around shipyards and docks.
Panel service truck; McKeesport, Pennsylvania... general Red Cross work in connection with the blood donor center.
Station wagon; Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania... to be used throughout Allegheny county to transport nurses and doctors to blood donor centers.
Blood donor unit, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania... to be used throughout Allegheny county. Carries hospital equipment to set up a ward.
That's the Murphy girls' answer to "what can we do". In their name the units were presented to the American Red Cross and America's military forces—at a public ceremony held in McKeesport, home of the G. C. Murphy Company. Prominent Red Cross officials from Washington and Pittsburgh attended the presentation and accepted the gift in the name of the American Red Cross.
It is a gift from "Murphy Girls" in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Maryland, Indiana, New York, Illinois, Connecticut, New Jersey, Kentucky, Virginia, Michigan and the District of Columbia.

Highways In Good Shape Over County

Employees of the State High Department have put in some busy days during the past week battling the storm and heavy snow which has assailed the county. Last week the men spent hours in an endeavor to get the roads opened for travel and on Sunday when the intense cold made a fireside most desirable the plows and cinder trucks covered 175 miles of roadways in the county. This put the highways in a safe condition for travel.
On the program of the Warren highway workers there are 250 miles of improved highways and 265 miles of other roads, macadam and dirt. In all there are 515 miles of roadway to be taken care of. This mileage is almost enough to take a person into Chicago if it were all straightened out. But the dirt roads and Pinchot roads present a real problem. They wind and twist, have bad grades and deep gullies through which they pass and they require more time than all of the improved highways. The latter are cleaned rapidly as the big plows can scoot over them in fast time.
The dirt roads, too, are harder on equipment than the concrete roads. Bumps and obstacles are encountered and if the plows are set close the plows catch and many times are broken. But the program calls for the clearing of these roads as upon them may be located a school house, the home of an important defense worker or some other matter that makes it imperative that they be cleaned.
The Highway employees have done a good job thus far in their winter's fight to keep the highways open for travel and so far only two days have been lost by some of the rural schools due to impassable roads. High winds drifting the snow into huge banks, requiring almost constant plowing, caused this trouble.
The Office of Price Administration estimates that American motorists have between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 tires tucked away somewhere for a "rainy day".

STOCK IS MOVED
Stock and equipment from the Singer Sewing Machine Company's store here was moved to Buffalo Monday. The store closed for the duration Saturday night.

BUTTER WAS OUT
Butter and oleomargarine both were scarce articles Saturday and most of the stores in the city handling these commodities were sold out. Many visited store after store in a vain quest for these articles. One store sold butter in quarter-pound packages for a time until its supply was exhausted.

TRAFFIC WAS LIGHT
Whether or not it was the ban on gas which sent hundreds of motorists scurrying to service stations last Friday before the hour of noon or whether it was the cold there was little traffic about the city Sunday. It was perhaps the quietest day in Warren in many years as far as automobile traffic is concerned and for many minutes on some of the busiest streets not a car was observed. The announcement that the ban would be relaxed was hailed by auto drivers and business at the gas stations has been back almost to normal since rationing has been enjoined.

Deadline Of Messages Of Felicitation

Western Union and all other domestic telegraph carriers must cease to accept for transmission messages both originating at and addressed to points within the continental United States or foreign territory or congratulatory messages not limited to greetings for Christmas and birthdays.

Midnight last night, December 21, 1942, was the deadline for sending telegrams from the Western Union office in Warren. Effective at the same time the sale of American Express orders for mail funds and travelers cheques was discontinued at the Western Union office.

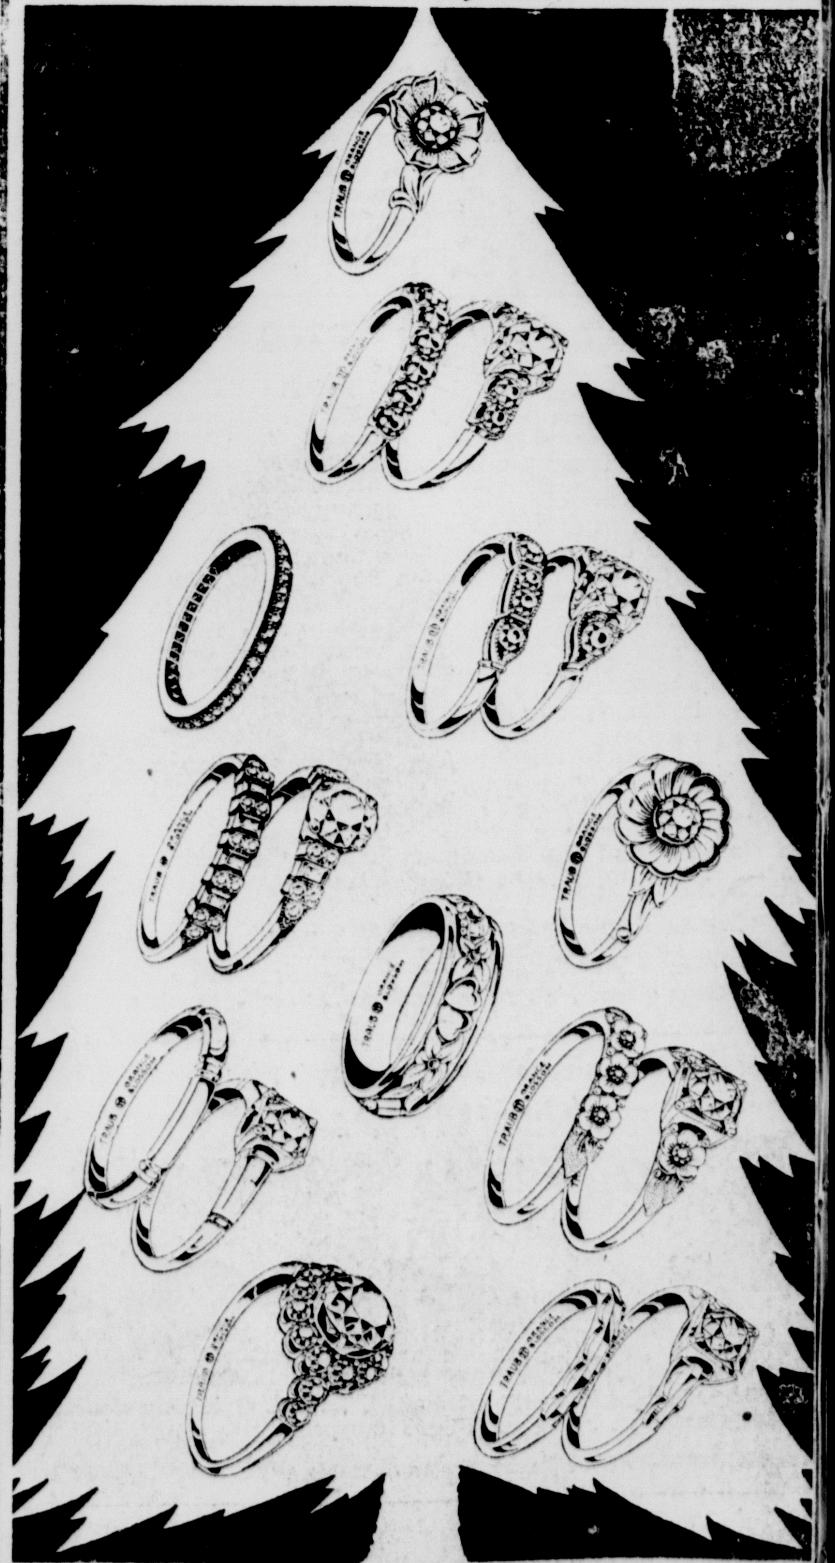

C. S. Burnette, manager of local office, states that this is pursuant to an order of the Board War Communications having as object the deletion of all extraneous activities by the telegraph industry, in order that the Western Union may, as an important factor in the war effort, be left free to concentrate on the handling of essential communications.

Short days spread to every girl the vast Murphy syndicate. There was no elaborate sales program outlined but the office girls the sales began canvassing every

"After all, I'm a human being, too. I haven't used up my resentment yet."
While Henderson attributed his resignation to poor health, Senator Brewster laid it to "administrative ineptitude in high places," which he charged was "the greatest bottleneck in Washington today."
"Within six months," Brewster told reporters, "they'll be praying to have Leon Henderson back."
A member of the senate was investigating committee, Brewster described Henderson as "a tub thrown to the congressional whales" and added "this will not keep them quiet very long."

The State Evacuation Authority was formed last October under the State Defense Council and 67 county directors were selected. The local chiefs were instructed to form county groups composed of such officials as the welfare director, superintendent of schools, medical association head, mayor of the county's largest city and representative in the legislature.
Stewart said no practice removals of civilians from target areas would be held, commenting: "It's too dangerous. When you start a mass movement of people, you create a hazard to their safety."

Yanks Voted Biggest Sports Disappointment During 1942

New York, Dec. 22—(P)—A baseball team that wins a pennant ordinarily is considered something of a success, so it might come as a surprise to the New York Yankees that they have been voted the biggest sports disappointment of 1942 by the experts taking part in the Associated Press poll.

However, the disappointment concerned the club's showing in the World Series, in which it was taken for a ride by the St. Louis Cardinals, rather than the regular season's play.

The Yankees received a total of 90 points and drew 25 first place votes in achieving the doubtful honor. The only real competition they had came from the Brooklyn Dodgers, who drew 76½ points and 18 first-place votes for their feat of blowing a 10-game lead to the Cardinals in the National League race.

Topping the individual flops and running third only to the Yankees and Dodgers was the Yankee second baseman, Joe Gordon, who failed to perform in the series as the critics expected. Gordon drew a total of 51 points, with nine voters listing his failure as tops.

Something that never happened was considered the biggest disappointment by three voters and drew a total of 18½ points. That was the abrupt cancellation of the Joe Louis-Billy Conn heavyweight fight by Secretary of War Stimson.

Winter Race Season Is On

Miami, Fla., Dec. 22—(P)—A smaller crowd with a bigger bankroll gave Florida's winter racing a dazzling start at Tropical Park and left officials happier today.

The opening throng of 5,111 was expected to taper off as the second day's card was run off. Yesterday's crowd was 4,271 less than on last year's inaugural day, but it bet $232,251 compared with $252,841 a year ago.

This was a per capita increase of $18 from $28 last opening day to $46 yesterday.

The horses performed well over a lightning-fast track, with long shots finding the going to their liking. The featured inaugural handicap was split into two sections, the first going to Max Wexler's Dispose at $20.70 for $2, and the last half to E. K. Bryson's Marksmen at $33.80.

Covering The Sports Front!

BY "BOB" JOHNSON
1924 was the busiest season of the Dragon basketball's history and with 31 tilts to handle they came through in wonderful form, winning 25 of them. Al Wolfe and Dick Schumacher played at the forwards for that aggregate and, with "Oaf" Brown at center and Don Finley and "Fritz" Kennett at guard posts, the Warren five of '24 turned in one of the most brilliant seasons in the books. The Dragons played them tough in those years, traveling to Erie, Buffalo, and even taking on Cleveland, while winning most all these games. Erie turned into their "jinx" team that year, however, and the locals were trimmed twice by the lake boys.

To finish out this championship team, there were Myron Jewell, Johnson and Ed Rasmussen, all plenty good to throw into the game when the going was bad. What that man Leidig can't do is what they are asking. He always turned out the best football teams and then took over the cage teams and handled them as well, if not better.

Oil City was a bad spot on the book that year, too, when they managed to turn Warren's team into the lost column twice, and each time by two baskets, along with Cleveland Lakes team, who took them. Clarion won a close one from them later in the season that year after having been downed themselves before by an 81 to 22 count. Revenge was also taken on Kane again and they fell by the wayside with 52 to 20 and 52 to 40 chalked against them.

Yes, the Warren Dragons have always won most of their games and have turned out some of the best teams in this section, but, when speaking of the '24 team, there are always plenty who are willing to call them the greatest aggregate ever coached by J. B.

The locals lost all except Dick Schumacher in 1925 and had to mold a brand new team, but could not come anywhere near their exploits of previous seasons and suffered a bad year. On a schedule of 24 contests they came in with only 12 wins, which consequently ended that year with the lowest percentage they have ever had.

Barney Senger, Davidson, "Chuck" Eggleston, Eddie Genberg, Reed, L. Dorsey, Dan Dorsey and N. Peterson made up this outfit and again they tackled some of the hardest teams within a hundred-mile radius. Kane took their scalps again, and twice at that, they lost to every Erie team but Academy; Johnsonburg, a hitherto easy pick, conquered them, and all they had to show for their season were a few minor wins such as Franklin, Sheffield, Ridgway and at that time another easy team, Jamestown.

Their record of that year was not as bad as it may sound, because they lost the majority of these contests by a meager margin and to some of the best opponents ever faced.

Warren again was on the upgrade after that season, but can never compete with the records they rung up in those early '20s. Cont.

With the tightening down on gas, heads of the Warren County Country Club are beginning to wonder if a '43 season of golf will be possible. It's a cinch that half of Warren's golfers will not be playing next year, regardless of circumstances. Remember when we held the Warren county championship at Maplehurst on June 20th to get in ahead of the gas rationing which was supposed to start July 1st? . . . And in all that rain, too . . . Say, maybe they'll let you get in practice on Beatty Field for the first season after the war . . . But then, maybe not.

SPORT SHORTS

New York, Dec. 22—(P)—There will be plenty of "hay" for the grand circuit horses next year.

Charles W. Phellis, president of the major harness racing loop, announces that purses aggregating approximately $500,000 will be raced for in 1943.

The exact lineup of the circuit will not be determined until the stewards' meeting in mid-January, but Phellis said every effort will be made to eliminate some of the long trips. This may confine the racing to 10 or 11 weeks, he said, but he pointed out there are about 40 rich stakes which must be raced and if the circuit is curtailed it will mean more money will be raced for each week.

Stillwater, Okla., Dec. 22—(P)—The Oklahoma Aggie wrestlers—national champs 13 times in 15 years—may be hard pressed to prove their claim to 1943 honors.

Coach Art Griffith has been able to schedule only one game, with the naval pre-flight school at nearby Norman, because of the transportation situation.

Only one of his champions, Heavyweight Lloyd Arms, is back. Eight veterans are in war work or the armed services.

Pensacola, Fla., Dec. 22—(P)—A daughter was born here last night to Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, 1941 National Women's Singles Tennis Champion. Her husband, Lt. (JG) Elwood Cooke, U. S. Navy, is a top-ranking tennis star stationed at the Pensacola naval air training center.

Washington, Dec. 22—(P)—The Fish and Wildlife Service said today that 15,000,000 ducks and geese are slain annually by hunters and this game alone has a food value of not less than $5, 250,000.

WAR BONDS and STAMPS

The Greatest Gift of All!

The Bonds You Buy Today . . . for Christmas Giving
Will Pay Returns in Happy Living . . .
Long After Freedom's Won

Like many other thrifty Americans, you have been saving in order to have ample funds for Christmas giving. In these times no gift will be more appreciated or prized than a United States War Savings Bond. Here is truly the present with a future . . . for the one who receives it, and for the Nation. The full faith and credit of the United States Government are pledged for payment of both principal and interest of these bonds. AND—your money will be put to work at once to buy the guns, planes, and tanks our armed forces need to protect your home, your freedom, your family.

Series E War Savings Bonds make perfect Christmas gifts because (1) Your money helps buy the guns, tanks and planes America needs to win this war; (2) the gift of a Bond encourages systematic saving, it increases in value with the years, until at maturity the Bond for which you pay $18.75 is worth $25; (3) by curbing unnecessary spending for consumer goods it helps to reduce the pressure for labor and materials so needed in war production.

War Savings Bonds mature in 10 years and are issued at 75 percent of their maturity value. Example: A Bond bought now for $75 will be redeemable in the same month 10 years from now for $100. This is an increase of 33 1-3 percent, equal to an annual interest rate of 2.9 percent compounded semi-annually. To protect the owner, Bonds are registered and not transferable.

Chapter 19
Worm In The Apple

"It's for you, Pasquin." The police official genially handed the phone across a bright band of morning sunlight on his desk to Clark. Gloria's voice came, warmly provocative.

"Hello, Elusive. Duffy tells me you're at the City Hall arranging traffic for some Victory Parade tonight, but I don't believe it. You're in jail."

Clark laughed. "What are you doing in Frisco? Or is this an exceptionally clear New York hook up?"

The laughter went from her voice, a personal note of heavy urgency crept in. "I hate to pester you—and always about the same thing. But this time she's—it's pretty awful. Could you—I'm with Duffy at your place?"

"I'll be right up," Clark chided himself for his sudden tightening apprehension. He told himself that Gloria knew nothing of Rita.

She was just a dramatic debutante with feline tendencies. Tonight Rita would be in Frisco—with him at the Victory Parade. By the time his car had climbed Russian Hill, he felt cheerful and impatient.

Gloria was in his shabby, large living room, a chic dash of beige and red against the old-world ease of the place.

"I love your artist's hideaway," she greeted him. "How are you?"

"Pretty busy," Clark said lightly. "You here for some time?"

Rebuffed by his cold friendliness Gloria hesitated, then answered in a low anxious voice, "No."

Duffy came in frowning, with a tray of hot coffee. "What's wrong with you two anyway?" Clark demanded. He jerked a heavy hanging back across the alcove window, revealing the bright outline of Russian hill, the sparkling waters of the bay below. "Why don't you let a little sun in?"

Gloria's voice was saying behind him, "I've just come from Blossom Valley."

For a full minute he didn't get the significance of her low voice. Then he whirled about to stare at her. "Blossom Valley?" he repeated, stupidly. "What were you doing there?"

The Trap

GLORIA felt all Clark's attention on her. She reveled in the moment. Get a man to concentrate on you, no matter what makes him do it—he's yours, was her philosophy. With an effort Clark threw off his second experience of tightening feet and cheerfully came over to pick up his coffee. "How did you happen to go to Blossom Valley?" he repeated.

"I went because Father got a letter from the ranchers pleading to know what was to happen to their factory," said Gloria slowly. "They wrote that Rita had gone away without telling them where. Her low voice trailed off miserably."

ningham's daughter, they showed me every scrap of the records that Rita's father left them of how he'd run the factory. They kept me there for two hours . . . and when they had finished . . . her heart was thudding fast now. This was the crucial minute.

Her voice dropped to a whisper. "When they were through . . . I was convinced that all of the $20,000 Tom Ralston got from father's bank for the factory didn't go into the factory."

One slim, ringed hand lifted to press against her forehead—she went on in a slow, anguished tone that seemed struggling against all natural compulsion. "So—I promised them I would help—find—Rita. They think she's here somewhere. It's so—awful . . ."

She was sobbing, her head on the mantel. She looked small, dainty and forlorn. Abruptly Clark's comforting hand was on her shoulder. She heard the first show of concern in his voice.

"Look, you've worked yourself up over this till you're all shot," "I know it," she admitted. Suddenly she turned to him, her arms crept around his neck, her head rested wearily on his chest. "But it's so awful," she sobbed afresh. "To go—into a detective's office to put him on the trail of a friend!"

"Did you hire a detective?" Clark asked quietly.

She shook her head. "I couldn't," she whispered. "I thought I'd wait till this afternoon."

"Why not wait several days till you're feeling better," Clark was patting her shoulder gently. "Come out and see the town with me."

"Well . . ." Gloria hid her triumph till Clark had gone into his bedroom to change. Then she smiled serenely at her reflection in the mirror.

Fortunately, she couldn't hear Clark's orders to Duffy as he dressed.

"Call Rita the instant we go," said Clark. "Tell her not to come to Frisco today. Tell her I'll come down there Sunday."

Two Telephone Calls

RIDING back through Frisco from the horseshow in the crisp, autumn sunset, Gloria snuggled closer to Clark, smiled up at him with warm possessiveness. She had had a wonderful three days. He had been charmingly attentive, determined to fill her every minute. Her busy mind was already on plans for the final triumph—her brilliant wedding to Clark Pasquin. She'd have . . .

"I'm going to be out of town tomorrow," She was brought from her dreams at the hotel door by Clark's voice. His eyes were on her but his thoughts were far away. A warning bell sounded in her mind. Abruptly she knew where he was going tomorrow. To Rita! White hot suspicion flashed through her. He had been taking her about these three days to keep her from finding Rita! He was still in love with Rita!

She said goodnight to him sweetly. Then hurrying to her room she put in two calls. The first to the airport.

"This is Mr. Pasquin's secretary calling to check on his reservation for Sunday."

The report came back fully. "Yes, Mr. Pasquin's reservation is for 9 a.m. On the plane leaving for Del Monte. He can go by taxi to Carmel."

"Thank you," murmured Gloria sweetly. Her second call was to Blossom Valley. Her voice was sharp, sardonic now. "Get your committee together, Mr. Arlen!" she told him. "Rita and Clark Pasquin will be in Carmel over Sunday!"

Daring Foray Against Nazis is Revealed

(From Page One) which the Germans held strong machine-gun posts, "as we found out when we bumped into them."

The Morocco radio reported that the Nazi field marshal already had reached Misurata, 100 miles east of Tripoli. There was no immediate confirmation from Cairo, the news from there being limited to yesterday's British communiqué reporting that the Eighth Army had reached Sultan, 250 miles east of Tripoli, the day before.

In Tunisia itself, bad weather slowed ground operations generally, but French forces now at Pichon, about 80 miles south of Tunis, still were driving eastward to the coast to cut the line of retreat if Rommel does try to drive to a junction with the German-Italian forces in northern Tunisia.

Allied planes hammered again at the Axis ports of Tunis and La Goulette and, in a surprise blow 150 miles inland from the Gulf of Sirte, demolished seven of 11 enemy planes parked on an airfield at Hum.

Axis planes, the Italian communiqué said, revisited Allied bases at opposite ends of the Mediterranean which recently have been earmarked for enemy bomber attacks.

A 12,000-ton transport was reported sunk by a submarine off Oran, Algeria, and another big liner torpedoed.

Allied headquarters meanwhile disclosed that Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in Tunisia, had commanded Gibraltar during the first days of the North African landings, becoming the first foreigner ever to control that fortress in two centuries.

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) Dec. 22.—(P)—The Berlin radio said today it was feared thousands of persons, "including high Turkish officials," had perished in a violent earthquake in northeastern Anatolia, Turkey.

Washington, Dec. 22.—(P)—Brigadier General Albert W. Waldron, 50, has been wounded seriously in action in the southwest Pacific, the war department announced today.

London, Dec. 22.—(P)—The U. S. Army's Eighth Air Force Service Command, which handles procurement of supplies and maintenance plans, is getting ready to service "an all-out air offensive against the Axis and will be ready to accomplish this mission within a very brief period," Maj. Gen. Henry F. Miller said today.

A COUPLE OF CHARMERS. Sgt. John Stafford, right, claims he knows all about snakes in the grass, so he takes over the native cobra charmer's job while other members of the U. S. Army Headquarters Detachment in India wish him all the luck army men wish any sergeant. (Passed by censor.)

Germans Rushing Reserves to the Middle Don Front

(From Page One) The Don-Volga-Stalingrad area. Some of the fury of the German counterattacks southwest of Stalingrad were attributed here to the Nazis' fear of encirclement.

Those attacks, in the region of Kotelnikowski, have been some of the sharpest offensive. Large numbers of tanks and reinforcements presumably moved up from Rostov and beyond, daily were going into battle.

On the other flanks of the Stalingrad, the struggle continued with little change reported, but on the central front, west of Rzhev, the midday communiqué noted that three waves of counterattacks were rolled back by the Russians in one sector, and two were repulsed in another, with heavy losses to the Germans.

MANY WOMEN WORK IN CIVILIAN DEFENSE. Harrisburg, Dec. 22.—(P)—Eleven per cent of the 576,984 Pennsylvanians enrolled in the Citizens Defense Corps are women. Dr. A. C. Marts, director of the State Defense Council, reported today.

He said the 64,757 women were divided as follows: Air raid wardens 18,050, auxiliary firemen 78, auxiliary police 181, decontamination 125, drivers 2,110, fire watchers 709, food and housing 10,083, medical 12,734, nurses aides 14,225, messenger 1,765, rescue 111, road repairs 105, staff 4,479 and demolition and clearance 1.

Dr. Marts said that while headlight masks for emergency vehicles have been ordered by authorized persons in many counties, no orders had been received from certain other sections, and urged defense workers not using approved devices to get masks immediately.

May Abandon Subsidies In Price Set-Up. (From Page One) The whole question of subsidies was said to be one for final decision by James F. Byrnes, director of Economic Stabilization.

The office of Price Administration announced meanwhile that retail food ceiling prices will be standardized to the type of store, beginning next month.

Subsidies are available to small packers of meat if they need them to remain in operation and to relieve the possibility of a "squeeze" by big packers through narrowing the margin of profit.

While subsidies appear to be out as a general policy in keeping down the cost of living, they probably will be used on a temporary basis in some cases.
